LETTERS

Letters to the Editor are welcome from our readers. They must not be more than 250 words, and if possible, typed and double spaced. We reserve the right to edit, discard or return to the sender any letter which does not meet the standards of length or good taste. All letters must be signed legibly and include address and telephone number.

Why The Opposition?

It is strange that there is so much opposition to the "Chateau Julien." It is a charming building with our lovely mountains in the background; giving our Valley a little look of "Europe."

How lucky we were to get it, aside from the fact that the owners have leaned over backwards to carry out their charities in a most friendly and kind manner.

I for one, enjoy seeing it each time I pass by! "Dreams of Fairyland."

We Urge Your Support

A vote for the proposed Carmel Valley Park and Recreation District will insure that the growing recreational needs of the community will be served most efficiently.

The proposed District is designed to benefit the existing park, known as the "Community Center," located on Ford Road in Carmel Valley Village. The Community Center now consists of three acres of grounds, meeting facilities, and an olympic-sized pool. From its beginning in 1951 the Community Center has been maintained through donations, fund-raisers, and grants. The Center is heavily used: a recent survey showed that 62 percent of all local households have used the facilities! Because of this heavy usage and the need for expanded services, the operation requires a permanent commitment from the community at large.

The benefit-assessment that would be levied by the proposed Park and Recreation District would provide approximately $45,000 yearly. A single-family residence would pay a maximum of $24 yearly, and this amount would be "locked in" for five years. After five years the assesment would again be presented for voter approval.

This proposed assessment would only supplement the present revenue sources. There will still be the usual efforts to raise funds, and the approximately 6,000 hours volunteered yearly by local citizens can be expected to continue. The locally elected Board of Directors will administer the operations of the Center, but the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center will continue to handle everyday operations.

We believe the formation of the new District with provision for expanded programs and facilities will benefit all citizens of the Carmel Valley. We strongly request that you vote "yes" for the formation of the proposed Park and Recreation District.

Save That Ballot And Vote

Some 25 years ago a group of local Carmel Valleyites discussed the possibility of raising funds for a community meeting place. They all agreed it was a necessity.

First things first—the money was raised and the property was purchased, the location being approximately where our Fire House sits today.

Unfortunately, they could not build at this location because they were denied a building permit. Undaunted and bound and determined, they sold this property and purchased the property on Ford Road, which is now where your Community Center building stands.

The amount of volunteer man-hours is impossible to count. So many people volunteered their expertise and worked together in a community effort, and now you see the final results.

The Community Center—a great place for meetings and classes; a swimming pool where over the years tens of hundreds of our children learned to swim, and the most recent addition—a park—with horseshoe pits, volley ball court, barbecue pits and a lot of open space.

Why am I rambling on about something you already know? Maybe it's because I am proud that I live in this Valley of ours, where friends and sometimes strangers (but not for long) work together in a common cause.

The Lions, Kiwanis, Women's Club, and now the J.C., the Garden Club and many more have seen to it that the Community Center would thrive and be a success.

Now all of us have another task: the budget of years ago was less than a thousand dollars. Today with the increased usage—pool, Community Center and park—it takes a lot more money to keep these facilities maintained.

By now you have received your ballot for the proposed Park and Recreation District. If approved, your Volunteer Community Center Board will be guaranteed at least $40,000 annually to augment the expenses for your facility. Maximum of $24 a year on a single family dwelling. (For those who smoke, that's about 20 packages of cigarettes. For those who don't, that's a lot of chewing gum!)

You have seven qualified people on the ballot. The elected five will see to it that your money is spent wisely.

Send in your ballot today and vote YES for the formation of the Parks & Recreation District.

Randy Randazzo

Thanks To All

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the people of the community who helped the Carmel Chapter during the Big Sur Fires and those who offered assistance. It is rewarding to see that the "Spirit of Giving" is alive and well. After all, isn't this what life is all about?

Again, thank you for a job well done!!!

District Proposal Explained

By now, you probably have received a mail ballot asking you to vote on the creation of the new Carmel Valley Park and Recreation District. A detailed explanation can be found in the ballot, but the proposal basically is intended to create a Park District out of the existing facilities of the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center, which are located on Ford Road in Carmel Valley Village. The new District would be empowered to levy a benefit tax assessment of $24 per year for single-family dwellings (other amounts would apply for businesses and vacant land), which would contribute approximately $45,000 per year toward operating the Community Center.

The Community Center has always relied on fund-raisers, donations, and tremendous amounts of volunteer help to provide for its operations. Now however, the Center has grown in response to the recreational needs of the community to the point where there is a critical need for funds to supplement these efforts. Without them, we will not be able to maintain services at their present level, nor increase services in the future. That, simply, is why we are asking your support in creating the new District.

The Center provides a wide range of activities for everyone, ranging from swimming, to various kinds of classes, to meeting facilities, to beautiful grounds to enjoy. If ever there was an operation deserving of your support, this is it. If you get a chance, stop by the Community Center and look it over. You will be impressed.

We would also like to point out that the proposal deals strictly with recreational matters. The funds collected would be expressly earmarked for recreational purposes and in fact, could not be used in any other way. Also, the assessment amount could not be changed for five years, at which time the entire matter will again be brought up before the voters.

The volunteer members of the Community Center Board want to continue to provide the maximum level of service possible. We are proud of what the Community Center has become, and want to see it continue to flourish. For this, we need your help. Please vote "yes" for the proposed Carmel Valley Park and Recreation District.

Statement Was Wrong

My name is John Osborn and I just got a hold of your newspaper and was disappointed to find an incorrect statement that was supposed to be off of the record. I was in your July 24, 1985—August 7, 1985 paper under "Valley Voices" and I was stated as saying "Their appearance. What Social status they are."

What I have just underlined was an off of the record sarcastic remark that I thought Miss Effron took as a joke. I would like an apology written up as soon as possible. I greatly appreciate you spending your time with this matter. Thank you.

John Osborn

(Editors Note: If apologies are in order, please accept ours.)

Saddened And Disappointed

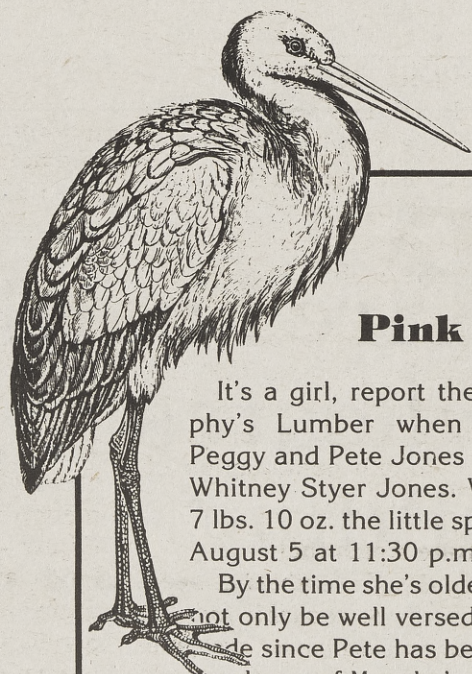

I found it confusing to see so many historical sites in Israel included in Betty Hansen's travelogue, "Tripping Through Jordan," in the Sun. But her last article, subtitled "A Little History," took me beyond confusion to outrage.

In this final installment in her series, Mrs. Hansen abandons both her travelogue format and Jordan in favor of a polemic on Palestine. Her superficial and skewed history lesson suggests that the Near East has always been an area characterized by peace and concord until the re-establishment of the State of Israel in 1948. She works towards the offensive conclusion that the Jewish people are the world's oppressors.

While I respect Mrs. Hansen's experiences living and traveling in the Hashemite Kingdom, I must question her credentials as historian. The inaccuracies she reports as truth, and the political bias she adopts as her theme, rob her both of journalistic objectivity and literary credibility.

As spiritual leader of the Monterey Peninsula Jewish community, I am saddened and disappointed to see this distasteful polemic printed in a friendly community newspaper.

It's a girl, report the folks at Murphy's Lumber when asked about Peggy and Pete Jones newest arrival, Whitney Styer Jones. Weighing in at 7 lbs. 10 oz. the little sprite arrived on August 5 at 11:30 p.m.

By the time she's older, Whitney will not only be well versed in the lumber trade since Pete has been a long-time employee of Murphy's, but she will be well versed in the latest movie releases as well. Pete and Peggy are also the owners of MVM Videos located in the Mid Valley Shopping Center. We're sure it won't be long before Whitney will be making the recommendations on the children's selections.

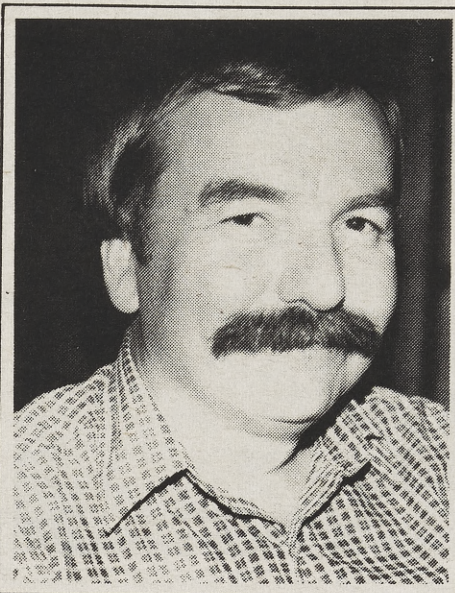

Why Are You Running For The Park District Board?

Ballots for the proposed Park District have been mailed to all registered voters within the Carmel Valley Fire Protection District. Voters should have received a pamphlet correction as well. All ballots must be returned no later than August 20.

Graham Matthews, Sr.
Retired History Teacher

"I am running for the Park District Board of Directors because I have been a supporter of the Community Center for 25 years. I'm running on a campaign of integrity and independence and frugality. I'm the only candidate of the seven who is not either a former director or related by marriage. I feel the credibility of this Board of Directors is a very important issue. I feel that I represent the taxpayers. I have been a property owner for 23 years and have had many years of experience in outdoor recreation."

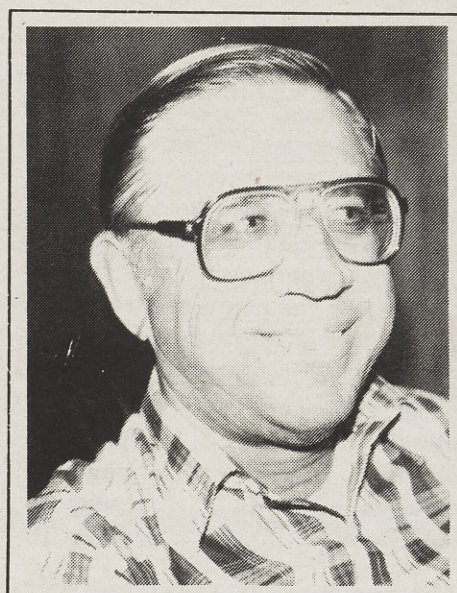

Ron Scholl
Attorney

"I am running because I have been indirectly associated with the Community Center for a number of years since my wife was on the board. As a result I have participated both through her and through myself in a number of fund raisers. I know how difficult it is to maintain a constant level of programs without a constant level of funding or at least an adequate level of funding and that's primarily the reason I'm running. I think the Park District is a good idea and if the voters agree then I'll try to manage it appropriately."

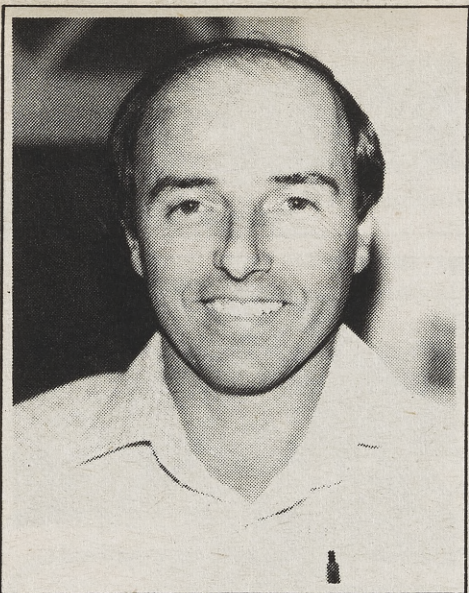

Debra Saxton
Newspaper Editor

"I have been associated with the Community Center for over five years now and have seen it change from very little use to being used every day of the week including weekends. I believe there are still needs in the community that have not been met and that a Park and Recreation District could provide for those needs. A new entity, however, needs prudent guidance to see that it becomes a real advantage to the community rather than just another taxing vehicle. I feel my interest in the community and my past experience on the Community Center Board will be helpful in such a goal."

Robert (Chuck) McKay
Businessman

"I've been associated with the Community Center, was on the board at the Community Center when the park was developed. I've had a long standing interest in the utilization of the park, the swimming pool and the rest of the facilities. I'm also concerned that, as this is the first opportunity that voters will have to vote a special taxation for a District other than the Fire District, the District be run properly and that the people be assured that a District of this sort can work and that funds can be properly spent and that programs, facilities and resources for the community can be found and maintained."

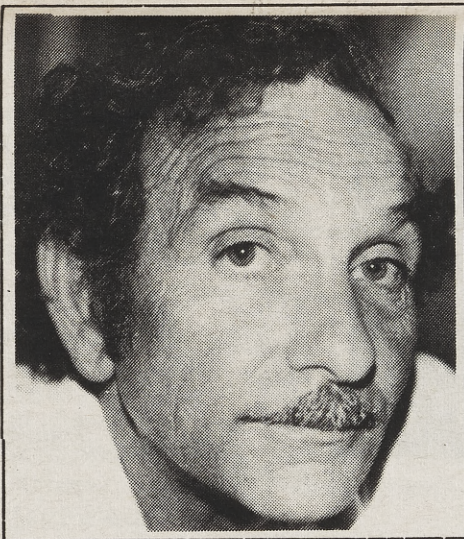

Chuck Bosso
Businessman

"I live in the valley with my wife and two boys. We have lived in the valley for 18 years, but my family has owned property here since the early 40's. I served four years on the Carmel Valley Community Center Board and was able to see many changes occur. I am very proud of the progress that has been made, and I am willing to serve on the Park Board in an effort to oversee the smooth continuation of our growth."

Kate Rosenthal

Unfortunately, Ms. Rosenthal has been on vacation and not available for pictures or statements. However, we hope to give you at least a little information to help you in your decision. Ms. Rosenthal has been an active member of the community for the past eight years. She previously served as president of the Tularcitos Parent Club and has been active in the Carmel Valley Little League as well. She is the mother of two and was active in the Community Center when her husband served on the Board.

Randy Randazzo
Market Owner

"Since I was so instrumental in acquiring the property and dedicated and donated time I feel it's an obligation that I'm looking forward to, being a director. I would like to see the by-laws formed. I would like to set the pace and also the guidelines for future directors to accomplish the goal that this money, for this district, will be spent wisely. The Parks and Recreation District has more than one objective. The funds will be used for the Community Center primarily but in the formation of the District the Community Center will be able to apply for federal funds and possibly state funds and grants as well. In the event that they qualify for this money there are other recreation areas in Carmel Valley that can easily be developed, that are now in prime locations and with a little resources, elbow grease and some knowledge these can be added to our parks. I welcome and need your support and you can bank on the fact that in the event that I'm elected I will be dedicated and see that your money is spent wisely."

The Volunteer's Training Building.

The training building at the Carmel Valley Fire Station was recently dedicated to the memory of Paul F. Porter, who served on the District's board of directors from 1948 to 1981.

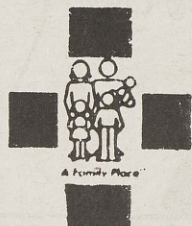

In a special ceremony, held July 27, the Carmel Valley Fire Protection District and the Valley Volunteers, Inc. were joined by the Porter family to dedicate the building. Paying tribute Porter was ex-fire chief, Bill Sims, a fellow commissioner, Morden Buck, Valley Volunteer, Larry Busick and Skip Marquard, Porter's nephew.

Speaking on behalf of the Porter Family, in his speech Marquard said "I couldn't think of anything that would have touched him (Paul) more than the dedication of the building." According to Marquard, Porter placed a high priority on the completion of the training building which was built in 1969.

The purpose of the building was to provide for weekly training and educational needs of the Valley Volunteers. The 2,400 square foot building has classroom seating for 50 students with slide, film and video capabilities as well as social and recreational areas for the members.

Doris Shoots Series Scene In Village

The Village buzzed with excitement when it was discovered that a segment of the new series, Doris Day's Best Friends, was being filmed at the Iron Kettle Restaurant in the White Oaks Plaza. Owners Cathy and Dan Callinan were thrilled at having their restaurant selected for the scene but managed to remain cool and calm throughout the shooting. At least that's how it appeared though that's not how Cathy says she remembers it.

Early in the morning the Kettle parking lot filled with equipment trucks and transportation vehicles for the stars. The film crew bustled about setting up their lights and cameras and cords were running every which way.

All the activity didn't go unnoticed and many local residents gathered to watch the proceedings. Starring with Doris that day was actress Joan Fountain, who was friendly and chatty with the folks that stopped by.

Undaunted by all the activity and excitement, Cathy and Dan went about their business. Cathy set about making her cheese cake and scones with flour flying as crew members weaved in and out the kitchen. Her efforts did not go unappreciated however, as crew members walked by grabbing fresh scones on their way. Dan filtered in and out between errands but took time for a nice long chat with the director and found they had many common experiences.

It was purely scrapbook material as Cathy and one of the Kettle's previous owners, De Cabral, were asked to be extras as restaurant diners in a background scene.

Around noon, poof! The stars and crew all disappeared and the Kettle returned to normal. It will be interesting to see how the hours involved in shooting the scene will appear when the program airs later this year.

Junior Livestock Auction At Fair Needs Community Support

The Monterey County Fair is approaching. A major event of this fair is the Junior Livestock Auction. There, 4-H Club and FFA exhibitors, representing the best in American youth, show and auction their livestock project animals.

By bidding, an individual or business can obtain truly superior meat. Any money paid above market price or donated to the sale is tax deductible. If you wish to buy, but have no use for the meat, the Fair will resell the animal to a packer at market price. The buyer pays only the bonus above market price. A free brochure and auction passes are available by contacting the Fair office.

Be a local AG Booster and support these local Clubs. The following members will be exhibiting market animals at the Monterey county Fair:

Representing Boronda 4-H of Carmel Valley: Lambs—Jaime Marasco and Marni Marasco; Swine—Joe Suwada, Kyle Koontz, Jeff Saunders and Robbie Hayes. Representing Carmel Future Farmers of America: Lambs—Julia Krakenberg; Swine—Dianne Hanssens, Daven Marasco and Jona Randazzo; Beef—Terri Allred.

4-H Members Receive Awards

On July 13, members of the Boronda 4-H Club of Carmel Valley and their families went to the Monterey Bay Aquarium for a special tour and the county-wide 4-H Achievement Day ceremonies. From this club the winners were Jessica Westcott, County Winner for Creative Arts and Crafts; Jaime Marasco, County Winner for Horse with Karie Wolter and Marni Marasco Horse Medalists; and Suzanne Suwada Medalists for Clothing and Textiles. Karie Wolter and Suzanne Suwada were presented with Leadership Development Awards and Jaime Marasco received the annual 4-H Scholarship for graduating seniors. Star ranks were earned by Jessica Westcott, Gold; Kimberley Pullman, Laura McLeod and Daven Marasco, Silver.

Another event that took place in July was the Boronda 4-H Club's Awards Banquet. After a barbecue chicken dinner, the members were presented their Club awards for the year. The 1985-86 Monterey County 4-H All Stars who, with their families, were the guests of honor, installed the recently elected Club officers: President, Karie Wolter; Vice President, Laura McLeod; Secretary, Jessica Westcott; Treasurer, Shelley Gesicki; Reporters, Kimberley Pullman and Marni Marasco; Newsletter, Karen Miller; Historian, Pam Rice; and Song leader, Jim Rice.

Filing Deadline For November Elections Draws Near

Potential candidates must make up their minds as the deadline to file papers for special district and the school board seats draws near. Those interested in running for the Monterey Peninsula Water Management District board, the Carmel Unified School District board, the Carmel Sanitary District board or the Carmel Valley Fire Protection District board have until 5 p.m. Friday, August 9 to file their papers to qualify for the election races scheduled for November 5.

To be filled on the Water Management District board are two four-year seats on the seven-member board. Incumbents are Nancy McClintock and Billy De Berry, who was appointed to fill the seat vacated by Ed Lee.

The Carmel Unified School District board has two four-year seats on the five-member board to be filled. Incumbents are Doyle Clayton and Claudia Daniels, who recently won the seat in the recall election.

On the Carmel Sanitary District board are two four-year seats on the five-member board to be filled. The seats are now held by Paul Beemer and John Floyd.

The Carmel Valley Fire Protection District has one four-year seat open on its three-member board. Jerry Kurz is the incumbent.

Planning Commission Seeks Applicants

The Monterey County Planning Commission is seeking applicants for the Upper Valley Advisory Committee. Applications should be filed as soon as possible with Dale Ellis, Zoning Administrator.

Members of the committee make recommendations to the Planning Commission on various land use applications which cover everything from design to sub-divisions said Ellis. Applicants should submit a letter stating their interest in serving on the committee as well as any experience, expertise or special knowledge that might be useful to the committee.

Fifth District Planning Commissioner Marit Evans will contact those interested to discuss their applications in detail. According to Ellis, her recommendation for appointments to the committee will be made to the Planning Commission later this month.

To qualify, applicants must live within the Upper Valley Advisory Committee sphere of influence which is from the Laureles Grade on the west to just past Cachagua Road on the east. It is bounded on the north by Tularcitos Creek and on the south by the National Forest.

For more information contact Mr. Ellis at 422-9018.

Boronda Elections Will Be Discussed At Water Management Board Meeting

The fate of the Boronda Erosion Control Project, implementation of an irrigation system around wells in lower Carmel Valley, and a review of water quality considerations for proposed well fields are among the agenda items for the August 12 board meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Water Management District. The meeting will convene at 7:30 p.m. at the Monterey City Council Chambers, Colton Hall.

Ballots mailed by residents in the Boronda area will be tallied on Thursday, August 8. If voters approve financing the project by a simple majority, a public hearing will be held at the board meeting to certify the election results and determine whether to proceed with the project. If the board decides to proceed, benefit assessments will be set to be collected with property taxes. The maximum assessment is $8.06 per lineal foot of riverfront for 100 parcels in the two-mile Boronda Zone. The board would also authorize staff to let bids for construction and secure easements from property owners.

Earlier this year the board approved a design for a portable irrigation system to preserve vegetation surrounding four wells in lower Carmel Valley. Equipment has been ordered and District staff are in the process of obtaining permission from homeowners to irrigate their property. Staff will seek board direction on how to proceed with those who have denied permission.

In June the board reviewed a study on the potential of additional groundwater development in the Seaside Aquifer. The study indicated that approximately 1000 acre-feet per year could be developed for an annual cost of $5 million. However unresolved questions on water quality remained. An additional study now indicates that it may be necessary to treat the water to remove iron and manganese, a process that could increase annual costs by about 40 percent. The information presented to the board will be incorporated into the analysis of alternatives to the proposed San Clemente Dam.

Designer Connection To Be Featured At Network August Member Showcase Luncheon

Designer Connection, a new company founded by SUSAN BLOCH-FARRINGTON and JENIFER BUKEY, will introduce and show the new J-WAG line of clothing at the August 13 Member Showcase Luncheon sponsored by the Professional Women's Network of the Monterey Peninsula in The Crossroads Community Room at 12:00 noon. New Trustees Preside Over School Board

New trustees presided when the Carmel Unified School District board met on July 30 at the Carmel Middle School. Joining Doyle Clayton and Patricia Condren were new trustees Hilton Bialek, Claudia Daniels and Patricia Herro, who won the board seats in the recent recall election.

After the new board members were installed Doyle Clayton was elected as president of the board.

During comments and suggestions from visitors Jim Agan, President of the Carmel Association of Teachers said, "We as an association are looking forward to working with this board and this community to have this be a super school year."

Through their decisions, the new board indicated a willingness to listen to all sides of the issues. The board tabled any decision on the controversial Pupil Transportation Fee which was adopted in 1984-85. Parents who voiced concerns earlier will be contacted and made aware that the issue is being brought before the board for a decision. Also, after listening to a special committee recommendation to close the smoking area on the high school campus, the board decided a vote of the students would be appropriate before a decision was made. Both items will be brought before the board at a future meeting.

The next board meeting will be held on August 12 at 7 p.m. at the Carmel Middle School.

CVPOA To Meet August 14

The Carmel Valley Property Owners Association board will meet Wednesday, August 14 at 7:30 p.m. at St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church on Robinson Canyon Road.

Agenda items for the meeting include the Summer Party, public relations, the Water Management District, Land Use, Parks and Trails, Waste Water and Village Improvement.

The meeting is open to the public.

Community Church To Hold "Patio Rummage Sale"

The Women's Association of the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula is working feverishly in preparation of its annual "Patio Rummage Sale" to be held on Friday, August 16th from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturday, August 17th from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the church.

The church is located on Carmel Valley Road, one mile from Highway One.

Out Of The Ashes

"The trees were still burning, stumps were still burning and you could see 200 yards at best. There was smoke all over," said Dr. Gerald Petkus, president of the Ventana Wilderness Sanctuary board of directors.

Petkus had gone to the Sanctuary, located in the Santa Lucia Mountains above Big Sur, within 24 hours after the Rat Creek fire had ravaged the area. He wanted to see what kind of damage the fire had inflicted on the wilderness area and found more than he had bargained for.

On the way to the Sanctuary there were two cabins that were within about a mile of each other. "I had heard that my neighbors cabin burned down," said Petkus, who had stopped to take a look. "I decided to go see the other one which was kind of out of the way but I decided to go anyway."

When he reached the second cabin he was overwhelmed by the devastation. In particular, he was struck by the sight of a huge oak tree that was completely covered with ash. "I was just about to get into the truck and I hear meow. This little meow. So I went looking around." In his search Petkus found this two-and-a-half month old male kitten behind the tree which was surrounded by ashes five inches deep.

"He was just laying there," said Petkus. "He must have been sleeping in there and must have just heard me crunching that stuff and just started meowing."

His whiskers had been singed, his eyebrows burned off and his hair and tummy had been partially burned said Petkus. When discovered, he tried to run but his hind legs didn't work quite right.

"He had a lot of problems," said Petkus. "His toes were almost seared together."

"I just picked him up and put him in the truck," said Petkus, "the poor guy really went through a lot. I figured he was like the ultimate survivor and he deserved a chance."

After moving on to the Sanctuary, assuring that the hack tower installed in May was still intact, Petkus brought the kitten back to his Carmel Valley Veterinary Hospital and began work on his injuries. It took several days to separate the toes but his back legs started working fairly soon. "That's why I think it was an injury," said Petkus. "I think what had happened was he was probably under the cabin that burned, and I think something fell on him."

The new ward was dubbed Ashley Beltain (after the Greek fire festival) Cinderfoot Anderson (the first), by the staff, and he won their hearts. Ruthie's in particular, because she's the one who took him home with her.

According to Petkus, Ashley is now doing fine. "He's put on about a pound since we've had him." They are still working on his burns and he is still going through the healing process "rather vocally" according to Petkus.

The thing to learn from Ashley's experience said Petkus is to be aware where your animals are when facing a threat like fire. "Get all the critters inside so if you have to leave you know where they are," he said.

Rock Fantasy, "Alice" Opens August 22 At Sunset Center

Stephn Tosh, Carmel Valley Composer of "Alice", Premier Symphonic Rock Fantasy, in rehearsal with StarFlight student lance Thompson.

StarFlight '85 is presenting the world premier of the symphonic rock fantasy Alice by Carmel Valley composer Stephen Tosh at Carmel's Sunset Center Theater, August 22-25. Based on the books of Lewis Carroll, Alice will culminate the annual six week young people's theatre workshop sponsored by the City of Carmel and Starflight. A free community performance will be held August 22 at 2 p.m. Tickets at $6, are available for August 23 and 24 at 8 p.m. and August 25 at 2 p.m. performances. Call 625-5105 for advance reservations or Sunset Center Box Office beginning August 20.

John Prejean (Henry Higgins), Linda Prejean (Eliza Doolittle) and Gordon Kramer (Col. Hugh Pickering) brushing up on their diction for "My Fair Lady".

Jamesburg Players To Present "My Fair Lady"

The Jamesburg Players will bring their unique style and exuberance to the classic musical romance My Fair Lady starring John Prejean as Henry Higgins and Linda Prejean as Eliza Doolittle. The show, with book and lyrics by Alan Jay Lerner and music by Frederick Lowe, adapted from George Bernard Shaw's Pygmalion, and is a delight for all ages.

The story, set in London in 1912, sees Professor Higgins attempt to transform Eliza from a cockney flower girl into a lady. Assisting in the transformation is Colonel Hugh Pickering (Gordon Kramer) and the Professor's housekeeper, Mrs. Pierce (Laura McCallum). The show features many musical "standards" including "I've Grown Accustomed to Her Face," "Wouldn't It Be Loverly," "With a Little Bit of Luck," and "The Rain in Spain."

Dr. Charles Doolittle of Salinas plays Eliza's father, Alfred P. Doolittle, a common dustman, but one of the most original moralists in England. Also appearing in the cast are Martha Aldrich as Henry's wise and elegant mother, Steve Moore as Freddy Ensford Hill, Eliza's ardent suitor, Ken Croft as Harry and Larry Schmidt as Jamie, Doolittle's drinking buddies, Debbie Resnick as Mrs. Ensford Hill, Freddy's mother, and Raz Belleci as Zoltan Karpathy, "that dreadful Hungarian." The band includes Joan Swartz on piano, Ed Cluver on brass, Lynn Wetzel on flute, Grant Rosen on clarinet, Chuck Winge on trumpet, Richard Conklin on drums and Jackson Stock on Trombone.

The show opens Saturday, August 10 at the Sunset Theater in Carmel and continues Sunday, August 11, Friday, August 16, and Saturday, August 17. Curtain time is 8 p.m. and tickets are available at the door the evening of the performance. The box office will open at 7 p.m. Ticket prices are $8 for adults and $6 for children and seniors. Tickets are also available in advance from Bartlett's Music in Carmel and DO-RE-MI Music in the Carmel Plaza and the Barnyard at the mouth of the Valley.

The Jamesburg Players is a support group for the Jamesburg School (a small private school in the upper Carmel Valley). The group was founded in 1975 by the Prejeans, professional actors who were seeking a way to support their favorite charity, their children's school.

Decade Of Women Celebration

The Professional Women's Network of the Monterey Peninsula and the YWCA of Monterey County will co-sponsor a "Celebration of the International Decade of Women" on Monday, August 12, at Monterey Peninsula College, commencing at 6:30 p.m. The Celebration will feature three films by the Award-winning filmmaker Laurie M. Meeker, and a report by Riane Eisler who attended the recently completed NGO Forum of the United Nations End of Decade for Women Conference in Nairobi.

The Meeker films to be shown on August 12 are Remember the Witches (22 minutes), Night Without Fear (38 minutes), and Footbinding (6 minutes). Remember the Witches, which examines the place of women in history as seen through the eyes of her oppressors, was produced with a Western States Regional Media Arts Fellowship, with additional assistance provided by the National Film Board of Canada, Pacific Studio.

Premiered in Vancouver, B.C. in celebration of International Women's Day, March 1984, Night Without Fear uses a subjective camera walking through the city after dark, placing the viewer in the position of the woman walking at night. Night Without Fear won Honorable Mention at the Big Muddy Film Festival this year.

Footbinding is a documentary that traces the history of Chinese footbinding through reenactment, testimony, and stills.

Laurie Meeker did the script, cinematography, and editing of all the films. She has received a number of coveted scholarships and awards for her work including the Western States Regional Media Arts Fellowship and the William Rea Fellowship in Television.

Riane Eisler is a member of the YWCA Board of Directors and is a member of the Professional Women's Network. She is an attorney and author of The Equal Rights Handbook and Dissolution, and is a sought after lecturer both here and abroad.

Ms. Eisler has just returned from Nairobi and will present a report on the happenings there as well as her own analysis of the meaning of this final meeting in the UN Decade for Women.

For further information about this important event, please call either the YWCA or the Professional Women's Network.

Middle School Registration Begins August 26

Registration begins Monday, August 26, announced Middle School Principal, Frank Lynch. There will also be special orientations for each grade level he said.

Orientation for the Middle School students will be held August 27 in the gym. Sixth graders and their parents will meet at 10 a.m.; seventh graders at 11 a.m. and eighth graders at 1 p.m. Students can also pick up their schedules at that time said Lynch.

Registration runs from 8:30-4 daily and will continue through August 30.

For more information contact the Middle School at 624-2785.

Recovery Center Will Feature Alcoholism Films

The Recovery Center of the Monterey Peninsula is offering free films each Wednesday this month, dealing with the topic of alcoholism. The films screen at 6:30 p.m. in the Education Center behind Monterey Peninsula Hospital, 576 Hartnell Street.

The schedule through the end of August includes Francisca Baby, August 7; Alcoholism and the Family, August 14; Romance to Recovery, August 21; and I'll Quit Tomorrow, August 28.

For more information, call The Recovery Center at 373-0924.

Monterey County Fair Opens August 13

It will be six days of fun and excitement when the Monterey County Fair returns to the Peninsula. The Fair runs Tuesday August 13 to Sunday, August 18 and will feature a variety of rides, exhibits, events and entertainment.

Among the special events that will be presented daily will be The Great American Lumberjack Show featuring log-rolling demonstrations, canoe-tilting contests and axe-throwing, sawing, chopping and chain saw events. Hayward Lumber Company sponsors the event, which features competitors in a 30x50 foot tank.

Wednesday, August 14 is Kids Day. All children 12 and under are admitted free until 6 p.m. The day will feature A Crazy Hat Parade.

Friday, August 18 is Handicapped Day. All handicapped fairgoers will be admitted free via a program sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Jaycees.

Other special events include a Tug-of-War with football players and cheerleaders on Saturday, August 17 and a Chili Cook-Off on Sunday, August 18.

General admission is $4; children 6-12, $2; 5-and-under, free; senior citizens and military personnel, $3; Family passes are available for $12.50 (six admissions).

The Fairground hours are 10 a.m. until 11 p.m. daily.

Organizations Can Apply For Oktoberfest Concessions

The Monterey County Parks Department is now accepting applications for food and non-food concessions for the upcoming Coastal California Oktoberfest.

The Oktoberfest will be held on September 28 and 29 at Laguna Segura recreation area on Highway 68 between Salinas and Monterey. Attendance for this two-day event is estimated at 10,000 people.

The Coastal California Oktoberfest is a blend of participant and spectator events with a festival atmosphere created by a Bavarian Village. This village features tented beer pavilions, food and non-food booths, a major stage area as well as a secondary entertainment area, spectator events such as a Volksmarch and an 8K run, and a Porsche concourse and auto cross.

The food concessionaires' plan is to feature two types of menus: "meal-type" (sausages and rolls, potato salad, etc.) and "snack" (soft pretzels, radish curls, pastries, etc.)

Examples of non-food concession products may include European imports, souvenirs, steins, package foods, travel booths, pipes, tobacco, etc.

Booths will have to be limited this year to twenty food booths and twenty non-food booths. The fee for a food concession booth is $75 plus 20% of gross sales commission. A non-food booth fee is $100 for non-profit, $200 for private enterprise; with no commission.

Please request, fill out and send back applications early. The deadline for reserving a concession booth will be August 30. Non-profits, as well as private enterprise may apply for space. Interested persons may contact Tiffany Rippe, Oktoberfest coordinator, telephone (408) 754-1600, for further information and/or the application.

BUSINESS

THE CHAMBER CONNECTION

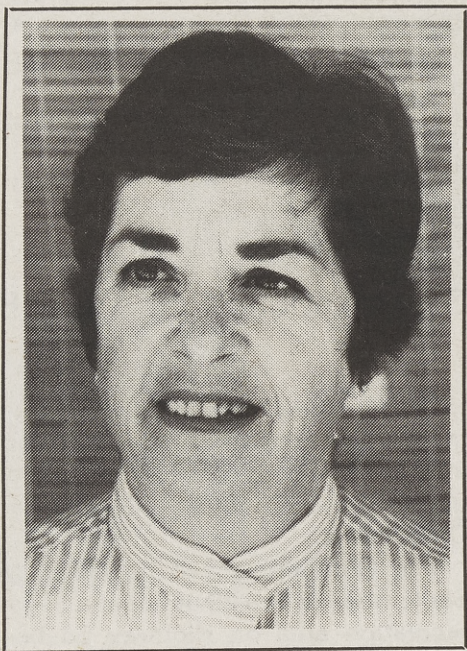

by Grace Darcy
Executive Director
Of The Chamber of Commerce

Deadline time again and there is much to report on the Carmel Valley Chamber's activities. . . . but first, let me introduce you to another Chamber member, someone you should get to know a little better because she is very much a part of the community. May I, then, introduce you to the Carmel Valley Chamber's treasurer, JUDY CASWELL.

JUDY is a native of Rhode Island and came to the Peninsula several years ago after traveling around the world with her husband, DAVID, now retired from the U.S. Navy. JUDY has fond memories of Spain and Morocco, and many places throughout the United States.

By the time the CASWELLS settled permanently in Carmel Valley, their two daughters were grown and on their own. Never one to sit around idle, JUDY invested in a word processor and open JCS Word Processing, now a thriving business, in the CASWELL home on Story Road.

Starting a business not only takes time and effort, it also takes talent, know-how, perseverance, and a sense of entrepreneurship. JUDY CASWELL has all of these. She also has that quality of mind and heart that is best described as balance: she not only has made her business an outstanding success, but she also has found time to serve her community and her family. JUDY CASWELL was one of the first members of the Board of Directors of the Professional Women's Network of the Monterey Peninsula. She publishes that organization's In-house Directory, a vital networking tool.

JUDY was elected to the Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors two years ago, and was elected Treasurer this past year. She also serves on the Chamber's Membership Committee, the Fun in the Sun Committee, and the Purpose and Direction Committee. Because of her innate sense of fairness and her ability to accurately focus on the issues at hand, she is in demand for committee positions on the Chamber board and, although JUDY no longer is a Network Board member, she often is called upon for advice and counsel to Network committees as well.

Lately, it is not business or service that ranks at the top of JUDY's priority list—rather, it is her new grandson and first grandchild, KEVIN, born in May to her daughter, LESLIE, and LESLIE's husband, RICH BORDI, pitcher for the New York Yankees baseball team. It's always a thrill to become a grandparent for the first time, but KEVIN, who weighed in at 9 pounds, 5 ounces, spent the first several weeks of his new life in his grandparents' home, and so became even more of a delight and a treasure.

If you haven't met JUDY CASWELL, then you've missed meeting a very special lady, a very special person. I feel very blessed to call her my friend.

Some vignettes from the wonderful July 18 Chamber Mixer hosted by NICK LOMBARDO, owner/manager of Rancho Canada. . . . DORIS and SAL NICITA enjoying the event with their daughter, JUDY. . . . JUDY now working for Western Title. . . . SAL heads S. J. NICITA ACCOUNTANCY. . . . DORIS is Carmel Bay Properties; RUTH ALLAIRE letting husband LOU do the socializing so that she could hold not-so-little ALEX AUSTIN. . . . ALEX's parents, PAM and STEVE, enjoyed the brief respite to mix with the guests. . . . RUTH looked very much at home holding the 8 month old, smiling and happy ALEX; A.J. and JUDY STOTLER looking good. . . . he, of course, heads COM-SAT; FRED ELLERBE of ELLERBE THERAPY ASSOCIATES there without his spouse and partner JANE. . . . who was working; DEBBIE SAXTON taking pictures for the Carmel Valley Sun. . . . they are elsewhere in this issue; Fifth District

Supervisor KARIN STRASSER KAUFFMAN looking terrific in the Western outfit she wore because she came directly to the Mixer from the Salinas Rodeo Parade. . . . KARIN, an avid supporter and member of the Carmel Valley Chamber, said a few words and listened to a lot of constituents. . . . she is one terrific lady; CHUCK McKAY selling raffle tickets like mad while spouse, VALERIE, said hello to Chamber friends. . . . JOAN and JOHN ZIELINSKI of Countryside Properties mixing with Chamber friend, DAVID CASWELL enjoying good conversation while spouse JUDY worked at one of the Chamber's information tables; JUDY and Wells Fargo's MELISSA TAYLOR (a CofC Board member) answered questions about the Chamber posed by non-members. MELISSA, for the first time, met MELISSA TAYLOR (honest!) another charming MELISSA who is a writer for artists publications. . . . the two MELISSA's were introduced by Stonepine's DIRK OLDENBURG; KATHLEEN CALLINAN who, with her husband, DAN, are the new owners of The Iron Kettle, was on hand to make some new friends as was GARY MOREIRA, manager of The Crossroads Shopping Center; HOWARD P. NELSON, and his delightful spouse, MICKEY, greeted new and old friends; HOWARD SEHLIN, Vice President of Monterey County Bank, not only enjoyed the Mixer but gave the Chamber a check so that MCB would be a sponsor of the Fun in the Sun Bed Races. . . . and I could go on and on and on because there were so many wonderful people at the Mixer, but there is so little room in the paper to mention them all.

There are many exciting events coming along. . . . NICK LOMBARDO seems to have started a Mixer trend because we now have several scheduled for the months ahead. . . . wonderful! A special thanks to NICK for a terrific time, and to CARL MILLER for preparing the dining room and making us all feel so much at home at Rancho Canada.

Until next time. . .

Processing The Creative

This issue I was attempting to write a column on the creative process, but it just wasn't coming through the usual channels. This past week I have had a client from San Diego staying here in the Valley to continue with resolving sessions begun in letters, tapes, and telephone processing. Deadlines demand I get something ready for press, but with the exhaustion of the week's encounter I have had to combine excerpts from the "lions" to describe what is a synthesis of creativity, seeing (in the broadest sense), and awareness—the prerequisite to all creative activity, whether in the arts, business, or personal lives. Thus what follows is a compendium of thoughts that represent to me what the creative process entails, at the outset, and "of the essence."

"To empty one's mind of all thought and refill the void with a spirit greater than oneself is to extend the mind into a realm not accessible by conventional processes of reason." Edward Hill, The Language of Drawing

"We begin with a concept of some kind of basic awareness, some kind of basic ability to 'know' or 'sense' or 'cognize' or 'recognize' that something is happening. This is a fundamental, theoretical and experiential given. We do not know scientifically what the ultimate nature of awareness is, but it is our starting point." Charles T. Tart, Alternative States of Consciousness

"To be shaken out of the ruts of ordinary perception, to be shown for a few timeless hours the outer and the inner world, not as they appear to the animal obsessed with words and notions, but as they are apprehended, directly and unconditionally, by Mind at Large—this is an experience of inestimable value to everyone." Aldous Huxley, The Doors of Perception

"You can never have use of the inside of a cup without the outside. The inside and the outside go together. They're one." Alan Watts.

"...negative capability...capable of being in uncertainties, mysteries, doubts; without any irritable reaching after facts and reason." Keats.

"Nothing is more real than nothing." Samuel Beckett.

"I feel that I do not exist in time, but that time exists in me." Carlo Carra, The Quadrant of the Spirit

"Our normal waking consciousness, rational consciousness, as we call it, is but one special type of consciousness.

Papayas

A tropical fruit with brilliant orange flesh, round black seeds, and an extremely delicate, unusual flavor and texture. Known as pawpaw in the West Indies, where it is also cooked, when green and unripe, as a vegetable.

Fully ripened, firm but soft enough to dent slightly with a little pressure of your thumb. Serve chilled, halved, and seeded, with a wedge of lime, or as a first course with prosciutto, like melon. Delicious in fruit salads or pureed in a blender or food processor, for ice cream and sherbet.

Papayas - Poppy Seed Dressing

- 1 cup yogurt
- 2 ripe papayas
- 1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
- 3 tablespoons honey
- 2 tablespoons poppy seeds

Combine all ingredients in a blender or food processor until blended and smooth. Store in a covered container in the refrigerator. Makes enough to dress four salads.

GOING MY WAY

Travel Tips by Thom Gulliver
Courtesy of Carmel Travel

Basically, I'm a non-traveler. So, I've been sitting here, off and on, for nearly three days in front of the blank screen of my word processor trying to understand why they asked me to write this travel column.

When I moved to Carmel Valley six years ago it was because I realized that this was the greatest place to be in the whole world—never too hot and never too cold any time of year. There would never be any reason to seek respite in a better climate; never again would I need to join the rest of America in seeking relief from August heat waves and unbearable humidity. And if a vacation is a period of time devoted to pleasure, rest, or relaxation—which I try to do 365 days a year—then why should I take one?

Well, maybe that's the answer. They probably thought that any travel tour, cruise, or other vacation trip that would get me out of the Valley would have to be extremely unusual or exceptionally exciting. Or was it because they knew that in travelling 250,000 miles a year in my last job I mastered the art of packing—that I can pack for a week's sojourn in fifteen minutes, using one small suitcase, and have room left over in case I see something en route that I simply can't live without? Or had they heard of the various techniques I have used to get upgraded to first-class on most airlines free of additional charges? Or was it my reputation as a gourmand—knowing how to find the best restaurants in any town? Or was it my frugality that caught their eye? Did they say: "Here's a guy who knows how to spend his money wisely?"

Or was it all in a name? Having found no one listed in the Yellow Pages under Travel Writers, and not finding any Polos—Marco or any others—in the white pages, had they hit on Gulliver as a last resort? If so, they should have picked my Aunt, Constance Tuttle Gulliver. You see, "C.T.," which is how I have shortened my nickname for her, from "Constant Traveler," is just that—a constant traveler. Three years ago she spent twenty-six continuous months on the Royal Viking Line ships, going from one cruise to another, around the world twice, stopped for ten days in San Francisco to get her appendix out and then on to the next ship that hit the port. She finally had to get off to have her passport renewed.

How-some-ever, I did say yes when they asked me and now I had better get something on this blank screen.

This column will be a regular feature, appearing once a month. We will write about specific places where C.T. or I have been, and we will talk about specific events. For example, next month we will discuss where, when, and how to best view Halley's Comet. We will give you all the arguments in favor of viewing it on board ship, far from any city lights versus the advantages of a perch high in a mountain in the Australian Outback. Although it is too late to sign on for the Royal Vikings cruise with Carl Sagan as guest lecturer—it sold out last May—there are others available.

We will be giving you all sorts of travel tips; such as, how to choose a package tour and how to read a travel brochure—how to avoid the pitfalls and disappointment of a poor selection. We will also tell you how to stay healthy on your trip—or if you should become ill or have an accident, how to find a qualified, English-speaking physician in any country.

Most of all we'll try to show you how to have care-free fun when you travel—whether for business, pleasure, or education.

Even in a month of Sundays (that would be 30 articles over two and one-half years—in case your math is rusty) we might not cover a specific area in which you are particularly interested. Therefore, we will try to answer any questions you may have. Address your enquiries to me c/o The Carmel Valley Sun. If I don't know the answer, I will have all the resources of Carmel Travel—who sponsor this column—to get the information you want. And if necessary I'll ask my Aunt, C.T.—if I can find out where she is traveling at the moment.

Bon Voyage!

Goodwill Stores Change Schedules

Knowledgeable Goodwill shoppers visit the stores regularly, if not daily, because they know that fresh stock arrives 5 days a week, Monday through Friday, and "best buys" are often snapped up early in the day.

But now there will also be Saturday delivers of clothing and household goods to all Goodwill stores (except the Bargain Barn and the new "Book Station").

Another change has Goodwill stores at 470 Main Street in Watsonville, and at 708 East Alisal in Salinas, open Thursday evenings until 8 p.m., "at least until the end of daylight savings time," according to marketing v.p. Ken Kelly. All Goodwill stores in the area are also open from noon to 5 p.m. on Sundays.

With Goodwill's conversion of a former Santa Cruz gas station into their "Book Station" on Mission Street, Kelly emphasized that used books will still be sold at their other stores, but with a small difference: cost will be indicated by color code labels, rather than individually priced.

Sierra Club Outings And Hikes

Registration Begins For 10-K Run

The Monterey Bay Ten-K Foot Race will begin its registration drive this week as part of the countdown to the Monterey Bay Ten-K Day, Sunday, September 22. The event is a TAC-certified Ten-K race for elite runners, as well as fun runners, joggers, walkers, and all who care to participate, for the benefit of Beacon House, a Pacific Grove alcohol recovery program.

Registration forms will be available this week at local sports stores in the greater Monterey Bay and Salinas areas. The annual race, in its third year, is anticipating nearly three thousand entries. Pre-registration is encouraged to be eligible for the many prizes offered by area businesses.

Team entries of five men/women will be accepted this year, including business and corporate sponsored teams throughout the community.

Ford's Department Store of Pacific Grove has agreed to be the pre-race headquarters, beginning the week prior to the race for race packet pick-up.

Ed Engquist is the race director this year. The hot-line for information concerning this event is (408) 649-0082.

Persons wishing to become involved in this event who do not run but wish to help Beacon House by volunteering to help make this race happen, may call the hot-line (408) 649-0082 for more information.

A number of outings have been scheduled for the next two weeks for members of the Sierra Club.

A hike at Molera Park is scheduled for Saturday, August 10. This is a moderate 9 mile hike up the ridge along Hidden Trail and returning along the sea terrace. Participants will meet at Brintons at the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center at 8:30 a.m. Food, water and a $2 carpool fee are required. Bill Bleick (372-6738) and Carmen Remenyi are the leaders.

Partington Canyon is the Sunday, Aug. 11 hike. This is a moderate 8 mile hike ascending about 2,000 feet up the canyon. It offers lunch in a meadow and the descent offers almost constant views of the ocean and coast. Hikers will meet at Brinton's at 8 a.m.

Lunch, water and $3 carpool donations are needed. The leader is Phil Hartman (624-2905).

A leisurely hike followed by a swim and hot soak at Paraiso Springs is scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 17. A bathing suit, walking shoes, picnic lunch and $7 admission fee are needed. Call leader Trudy Espinosa, 394-1867 (eves.) for reservations.

A 12 mile hike with a 1,200 foot elevation gain through Forest of Nisene Marques is scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 18. It is a moderate to strenuous hike. Lunch and plenty of water are required. Hikers will meet at the Del Monter Shopping Center at World Savings at 8 a.m. A $4 carpool donation will be required. Merrill Jones is the leader (624-3052).

Men And Women's West Coast Bodybuilding Championships Will Be Held August 10

Mike's Gym of Seaside, California, will be presenting the 1985 Men and Women's West Coast Bodybuilding Championships on Saturday, August 10, at Pacific Grove Middle School Auditorium, 835 Forest Avenue, Pacific Grove.

The contest begins with pre-judging at 10:00 a.m. followed by an evening performance at 7:00 p.m. The winners will receive their trophies at the evening performance. The competition features four events, the Men's Novice Monterey Championships, the Men's Open West Coast Championships, the Men's Over-40 West Coast, and the Women's West Coast Championships.

The guest poser at this year's competition will be Paul Daniels, who is the 1984 National Lightweight Champion, and the 1984 West Coast Over-all Winner. Daniels will also be giving a seminar on bodybuilding, nutrition, and posing, at Mike's Gym on Friday, August 9 at 5:00 p.m.

Mark Ericson, KMST-TV's Channel 46 anchorman, will be the master of ceremonies for the evening performance. The contest is being produced by Mike Moore, and Rosario Marinello. Tickets for the pre-judging are $5, for the evening show the admission will be $12 main floor and $10 balcony. Tickets may be obtained in advance from Mike's Gym, located at 1914 Fremont Boulevard, Seaside, California, or at the auditorium box office on the day of the contest.

Further information may be obtained by calling 394-1001.

Friends Of C.G. Jung Will Hold Public Showing Of Famous Jung Interview

"And do you now believe in God?" was the question asked of Dr. C. G. Jung, the noted Swiss psychologist, by John Freeman during a BBC interview some years ago. Dr. Jung's answer has become famous, and the subject of much comment and controversy ever since. After a moment's hesitation, and with a look of intense sincerity, he replied, "Difficult to answer. I know. I needn't. . . I don't need to believe. I know."

Now the Monterey Peninsula Friends of C. G. Jung will hold a public showing of that interview in the film titled Face to Face. at Monterey Peninsula College campus, Lecture Forum No. 103; on Friday, August 9, 7:00 p.m. Also to be shown the same evening is the color film produced by Laurens van der Post, titled The Story of Carl Gustav Jung, which includes dramatic highlights of Jung's life and revolutionary ideas. Its three parts, shown as one unit, are: I. In Search of the Soul; II. 67,000 Dreams; and III. The Mystery That Heals.

Introductory comments on these films will be made by Dr. Gerd Max Cryns, Ph.D, a Jungian analyst who has practiced on the Monterey Peninsula for the past nine years. He will also moderate a discussion after the showing with panelists Ena Grundy and Garrett Stearly, both long-time Carmel residents.

The public is invited to this event, which will also serve to celebrate the 110th anniversary of Jung's birth. Tickets are $3 and may be had at the door. Call 649-8809 for more details or questions.

ANIMAL TRACKS

Courtesy of the Monterey County SPCA

by Lisa Hoefler,
SPCA Wildlife Director

Have you ever wondered what goes on at the SPCA? Do you think the staff and volunteers just spend their time feeding the animals, admiring the wildlife or riding around in animal control trucks? It's not that easy. There is one emergency after the other, triumph followed by disappointment. We thought we'd share with you just a few of our experiences in the last couple of weeks.

The big news this month was Bones got a good home, in Carmel Valley. Bones was the cover model and feature story in our last MCSPCA News. With the love and affection of the entire staff, Bones was transformed from a frail and tangled mess to a happy and affectionate pet. Dan Ulrich, our Shelter Manager, recently saw Bones with his new family. He is sleeping on pillows, going to the office with them and basically living a good life.

One of my favorite shelter guests, a fuzzy mop of a dog we called Rags, was adopted by a charming man who planned to take Rags back to Boston. The man fell in love with the lucky boy while he was in the area on business.

A viewer of the late night movies, sponsored for the SPCA by Gary Grigsby of Monterey Dodge, wrote to say that with the help of those movies, his best friend and his dog were reunited. Sam Matar showed the dog in one of his spots for the SPCA's adoption and spay/neuter programs. The owners were alerted and they were able to retrieve their pet from our shelter.

The care of a hummingbird brought quite a few stares recently. In the spring, the staff and volunteers must work at a fevered pitch to keep up with the every fifteen minute feedings some of the animals require. Our Wildlife Director, Lisa Hoefler, often takes the more demanding creatures home for their nighttime feedings. But the lure of the movie Amadeus was too much—Lisa took her hummingbird and food to the movie and fed him there!

Those are fun stories that make me smile and feel that what we are doing is worthwhile and appreciated. But some of the things I've seen and heard about in the last month are heartbreaking stories of neglect and disregard for animal life.

Abandoned animals are the most pathetic. Some folks mistakenly believe that dogs and cats are capable of taking care of themselves wherever they happen to be dumped. They think an animal will either trap his own food or will amazingly charm his way into a new home.

that we tend to view such events in the very short term. Catastrophes such as forest fires would probably be easier to accept if we could view them as part of a natural cycle. The human race is, however, so far removed from that cycle in the static and insulated lives we've created for ourselves that we cannot see any value in the cyclic changes that occur regularly in nature. History has shown that we prefer to control nature even though it often becomes an ongoing battle.

Recognition of the existence of the cycles and their benefits would make it easier to accept events like fires. It would also facilitate a greater appreciation for wildlife and wilderness by increasing awareness of our impacts upon the system of wildlife interactions.

I am personally dismayed by the fire's intrusion into a place that I have

One man did decide the SPCA was the place for his unwanted tabby and three kittens, so he packed them up in a cardboard box and threw them over the SPCA gate late one night. Fortunately, our Wildlife Director was once again on the scene. She spotted them with the headlights of her truck. They were trying to keep warm cuddled up in the box in the cold night air.

A few days later we received a call from a bus drive in Gonzales. She had passed the same dog under an isolated tree in the middle of nowhere for three days straight. Jim Finney, one of our animal control officers, picked up the very hungry dog who was apparently just waiting patiently for his owner to return and pick him up. Of course, when he arrived at the shelter, he ate ravenously the food he was given.

With over 3,000 square miles to patrol, we must rely on the calls from people who see such problems. Every once in a while, folks decide to lend a helping hand, like the jogger who came across an aussie-shepherd mix who had apparently fallen from the back of a moving pick-up truck. The dog's two front legs were broken and his skin badly scraped. He was only six months old. Fortunately the jogger picked up the injured pup and ran to a nearby tennis club. There he found someone willing to speed him to a local vet for the SPCA. The owners never claimed the puppy and he was put to sleep because of his severe injuries.

When our staff members were volunteering at our booth at the Salinas Valley Fair, they took in two baby birds and one abandoned kitten. All were brought to our booth by people who cared. One girl, who had brought us a baby sparrow, told us a security guard advised her to throw it in the trash. The bird is now growing up with dozens of other orphans in our wildlife center nursery and should be released in about a month.

It would be easy to repeat hundreds of stories like these, both good and bad. They all keep us busy and give us a reason to continue our vital work.

Californians For Responsible Research Will Meet Aug. 14

The Monterey Peninsula Chapter of Californians for Responsible Research will meet on Wednesday, August 14 at 7 p.m. at the Unitarian Church on Upper Agujito Road at the Pebble Beach Exit of Highway 1.

CFRR is concerned about neglect and abuse of laboratory animals and seeks enforcement of legislation designed to protect them. All those concerned for the validity of results of medical and pharmaceutical research and for the welfare of animals are welcome to attend.

For more information call 375-9611.

SPCA To Hold Dog And Car Wash

The Monterey County Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will have a Dog and Car Wash on August 11 beginning at 11 a.m. at the shelter on Highway 68, across from the Laguna Seca Recreation Area.

Dogs can be washed for $3-$6 depending on size. The car wash is $2 or $5 for vans.

For more information call the SPCA at 373-2631.

WOMEN'S RESOURCE CENTER

by Ann Harrison

During the last couple of months the Carmel Valley Women's Resource Center has been experiencing a severe financial crisis. Because of the fact that we had not received major funding that was expected in June we have had to look very closely at the situation and re-evaluate. We know that our services and programs are needed in the valley, and this has been reaffirmed by our supporters through the many donations and letters we have received. Many people we have spoken to since our financial situation has become critical have expressed their dismay at the thought of the CVWRC closing its doors. It has been very gratifying that these supporters have done everything possible to help keep the CVWRC open. In my last column I listed many who have donated time, energy and money, and I would like to add a thank you here to the following: Carmel Lions Club, The Carmel Valley Women's Club, participants in The Human Race for Volunteers in Action, and the Carmel Valley Garden Club.

The CVWRC has received many letters of support and the following are excerpts from a few of these letters: "I have experienced working with other women on a volunteer basis to achieve partial funding (for CVWRC) and have found inspiration in the efforts of those who have worked to see the center become a reality. Their commitment and mine is in response to the very definite need for this program in our community."; "I whole-heartedly support this organization, have faith in its success, believe in its worth and its ability to serve such important basic needs in this area. The love, concern and complete commitment of its directors and members speaks eloquently for itself, more than any mere words could explain."; "The Carmel Valley Women's Resource Center has the admirable aim of drawing existing professional skills from Salinas and Monterey to Carmel Valley. I see this function as very important in helping to fill the service gaps in Carmel Valley...I heartily welcome the CVWRC to the area."; "We believe the addition of your organization and its services will make our community a better place to live by providing assistance and options to an under-served group: the women of Carmel Valley."; "I fully endorse you as a group founded on love and understanding, whose motives are for support, guidance and nurturance and whose members are altruistic and idealistic, and not motivated by profit or self gain, except in the sense of self improvement."; "I really want the Women's Resource Center to survive. Carmel Valley Women have been strong on their own, but survival is a common goal and sharing strengths as well as weaknesses is necessary for making a better community."; "My blessings to a growing and useful organization that is really needed. So happy its happening..."

The above mentioned letters and donations, along with others I have mentioned in previous columns, have helped the directors, staff, members and volunteers at the CVWRC in working to serve the women of Carmel Valley, and at the same time to attempt to secure the funding necessary to enable us to continue and expand these services. We encourage anyone interested in becoming a member or volunteering at the CVWRC to call us at 659-3445. I can say from experience that involvement with the CVWRC is immensely enriching.

The CVWRC will be resuming our workshops in September with the focus on re-entry. The calendar of these events will be published in this space in the next issue of the Sun.

Hidden Valley Will Present A Concert For Young Listeners

Hidden Valley's Summer Seminar Orchestra will present a concert for young listeners on Sunday, August 11, at 7:00 p.m., in Hidden Valley Theatre, Carmel Valley.

The concert program will include the Prokofiev classic, Peter and the Wolf narrated by The Honorable Leon Panetta. Saint-Saens The Carnival of the Animals, another great work for children, will be performed as will a contemporary favorite, Tubby the Tuba, featuring Warren Deck as tuba soloist. Conducting the seventy-five member youth scholarship orchestra are Henry Holt and Denis de Coteau.

Henry Holt returns for his fourth year as music director of the Hidden Valley Summer Orchestral Seminar. He has conducted the Seattle Opera in Wagner's The Ring for ten summers. Holt currently serves as Artistic Director of the Los Angeles Opera Theater.

Denis de Coteau is Music Director and Conductor of the San Francisco Ballet. Under Dr. de Coteau's baton the Oakland Symphony Youth Orchestra became the first American Youth Orchestra to win bronze and silver medals at the Van Karajan International Competition in Germany.

Warren Deck of the New York Philharmonic became its Principal Tubaist in 1979. He also teaches tuba at the Mannes School of Music.

Orchestra members from California, Oregon and Illinois were chosen by audition for the prestigious three-week seminar, now in its twenty-second year. Each student receives a full tuition scholarship made possible by the estate of Iris and David Alberto.

Admission to the concert is free. Concert goers are welcome to come at 6:00 p.m. with their picnic baskets.
